Samuel Dalzell Defeats Woodward in Big Match

Chevy Chase Crack Wins in | Commissioner O. P. Newman Match Play From Columbia Player by 1 Up.

MEDAL SCORE GOOD

Golf conditions were ideal yesterday with the result that play in the annual spring tournament at the Washington spring tournament at the Washington Golf and Country Club was of the higest order, and the second day's schedule went off without a hitch. The first and second rounds in the five sixteens were played and the first round of the consolations was gotten out of the way, leaving the semi-finals and finals in both classes for today with additional attraction in the form of a handicap medal play event open to all those not in match play.

A number of scores were made yesterday which bettered the seventy-five which day which bettered the seventy-five which took the qualification round prize on the opening day. In his match with Donald Woodward in the first round of the first sixteen. Samuel Daizell's medal score was 70, while Woodward's was 74. The latter was in unusual form and really should have beaten the Chevy Chase crack. He took the sixteenth hole in 2 and then followed with another 2 on and then followed with another 2 on seventeen, Dalzell was fully fifty yards away in a ditch on his first but shot his approach to the green and the ball kicked in the hole for a half. This practically cost the Columbia player the match as Dalzell won, I up, by halving the home hole.

Dalzell is now generally picked to come through today in the championship flight.

The two Dempsey boys also fought things out, Norbert winning by 1 up at 19 holes. Playing No. 18, Tom was 1 up and it looked as if he would win out when Norbert pulled his tee shot to the other side of the ditch, but the latter made a beautiful second, they lay alike on the green and Norbert took the hole when he laid his brother a stymie. The summary:

COMMISSIONER O. P. NEWMAN,

who qualified in the first flight, was beaten out in the first round of match play yesterday, Norbert Dempsey doing the trick, but he came out on top in his match with L. W. Weaver in the consolation event, winning by 1 up at 19 holes. He was awfully lucky, however, as Weaver, with the match halved, missed a 12-inch putt on the eighteenth green for a win. This gave the Commissioner another chance and he took advantage of it, taking the
